Costs for Carolina Power and Light) GRANTING Company) EXTENSION

On June 29, 1989, Carolina Power & Light Company (CP&L) filed a request for an extension to respond to the Consumer Advocate's request for updating responses to interrogatories. CP&L states that it will require an extensive amount of time to review, analyze and verify the accuracy of their earlier responses and the appropriateness of any further updating. In light of the fact that the hearing in this proceeding will not be held until late September, an extension of time to respond is requested.

The Commission finds an extension of time to respond to July 15, 1989, is granted.
